MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director, Public Affairs OfficeSUBJECT: Invitation to Address the Eleventh Annual Securities
Regulation Institute, University of California

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline an invitation to be the inaugural speaker at the Securities Regulation Institute, University of California, Thursday, 26 January, at the Hotel del Coronado, San Diego, California.

STAT 2. Background: [] Chairman of the Securities Regulation Institute of the University of California and a partner in the firm of Fulbright and Jaworski, has invited you to give the after-dinner address at the University faculty and spouse dinner. Mrs. Casey is also asked to attend. The audience would consist of approximately 90-100 faculty, spouses, and university officials. The general attendees of the conference would not be included. Neither media nor foreign nationals will be present.

STAT [] thinks that "it's about time to start educating the faculty!" He feels no person could be more appropriate than you to inaugurate this development with a 15-20 minute speech on any topic of your choice other than securities laws. As is customary, the University will pay all expenses for travel and accommodations for you and Mrs. Casey.

Stanley Sporkin will be a session commentator on Wednesday, 25 January, on Judicial Enforcement and Legislative Developments. See attached brochure of the full agenda of speakers for the Institute. Also attached is a short biography and press notations about [] and excerpts of remarks given by other speakers at the past Institutes.

STAT According to [] the Institute, which is sponsored by the University of California, has gained national prominence. Attendees come from all parts of the country. The Institute is now in its eleventh year and is part of the University extension system which offers continuing education programs to professionals and the general public. It is non-profit, entirely supported by course fees, and receives no state funds.

3. Recommendation: None; indicate your intention and have Public Affairs send an appropriate letter of acceptance or regret.
